Taj is an energetic little boy who loves playing basketball and soccer. Taj is a talker and loves to talk with you about just about anything. He loves playing outdoors and playing any kind of sport.

Taj is a sweet boy who needs a lot of consistency in his life. He will need a family who understands that new things are hard for Taj. They will have to be "out of the box" type thinkers to better help Taj. Taj would do best with a strong male role model in the home. He gets along with other children but would benefit from being the youngest in the home.
