CHS is excited to offer three new Caring for Our Own groups online beginning March 2021. These groups provide a convenient way for families to gain support with the experiences common to kinship care. Through a series of ten online meetings, kinship caregivers will learn how to assess and build on the strengths and needs of the children in their care, and gain assistance and ideas for working in partnership with the helping network, the children, and the birth parents.

Kinship Caregivers step in to support children and youth who for a variety of reasons cannot stay with their birth parents. For some families, kinship care happens when a child comes into the custody of a social services agency. Kinship caregivers who are caring for a child in DSS custody are eligible to receive financial and other supports when they become a licensed foster parent. Our spring Caring for Our Own groups meet the training requirement for licensure, while also providing the opportunity to learn and connect with other kinship caregivers. Registration is now open! Groups tend to fill quickly, so if you are interested, we encourage you to email the address below to get registered.

To register or for more info, email inquiries@chsnc.org and a member of our Family Engagement Team will follow up promptly.
