Alaineya is a spunky little girl who has a playful personality and great sense of humor. Friendly and outspoken, she is a people person who is happiest when allowed to freely be herself. Exuberant and energetic in her approach to life, she likes to dance, and act silly. A true creative, Alaineya loves arts and crafts, especially making jewelry. Also, being a foodie, Bojangles is one of her favorites.

Alaineya reports she would like a family that will allow her to be outgoing. Should like some freedom to express herself in her fashion and her style of dress. Alaineya wants an active family that likes to spend time together doing activities and enjoys traveling. If allowed, Alaineya would love to have a dog. She reports she just wants to have a normal life where she can spend the night with friends, and they can come stay with her.

Alaineya's support team feels like she would do best in a structured but nurturing environment. She needs a family that is patient and understands the pre-teen attitude. There may be some hard days, but there will be far more rewarding ones. The right family for Alaineya will need to set clear boundaries and follow through with consequences when needed. Alaineya needs a family willing to advocate for her mental health and that will be very involved in her academics. Overall, Alaineya is an awesome girl with so much potential.
