What a
Jokester!!

Chance is a jokester who loves a good laugh and making others laugh. In the beginning, Chance is very shy but loves to talk once you get to know him. In his spare time, Chance enjoys playing video games on his Gameboy switch and watching TV. Chance would love to have a pet one day, preferably a dog. Chance recognizes when someone truly cares about him. He needs to know that you have his best interest at heart and that he can really trust you.

An ideal family for Chance would be a family that will be patient in learning more about his desires, dislikes and needs. The ideal family for Chance would be patient and understanding. They will seek to get to know Chance and advocate on his behalf. This family will provide structure to support Chance's development and an environment that is nurturing and loving. This environment would also allow Chance to discover more about himself as an individual in society. It is important that Chance is supported throughout the adoption process and that his feelings are kept at the forefront. They will create a safe and loving environment and be a family that enjoys building memories together.
