Dymere is a smart, lovable boy who enjoys playing outside with his friends in the neighborhood. His friends describe him as a kid who is funny with a great sense of humor. Dymere plays well with other children and makes friends easily at school. He is often the leader of the group. Dymere's favorite subject is Math. He loves watching Cartoon Network, Disney Channel and Nick Toons. Dymere enjoys riding his bicycle, his hoverboard and playing video games. Dymere says he is good at doing bike tricks.

If Dymere could have a pet, he would have a cheetah. He likes the speed and agility of the animal. His favorite holidays are Christmas, Halloween, and Easter. Dymere enjoys those holidays because of the gifts, candy, and Easter Eggs. Dymere likes to read and enjoys all kinds of books. He enjoys going to the library and selecting his own books. Dymere can entertain himself either by playing on his tablet, reading, or riding his bicycle.

Dymere is a delightful boy who desires to be loved and receive affection. He needs an experienced family who is outgoing and can provide clear boundaries, have patience and an overall commitment to his needs. He wants to belong in a family. He needs a family who will allow him to maintain telephone contact and occasional visits with his great aunt and grandmother. It would be beneficial for Dymere to continue these relationships.
