Age 10

Energetic
Curious
Smart

Faith is an active girl who likes learning new things. Her favorite colors are pink and purple, and you can find that reflected in her clothing and backpack.

She likes to read and is a capable student – though she does sometimes rush her work to get on to more fun things. She enjoys museum outings, being in a pool, Defy Gravity, and spending time with her siblings. She is very sociable and likes to show things off to adults. She warms up to people quickly and is very expressive.

She would do well in a family that can meet her need for attention and affection, but also be able to balance that with firmness and boundaries. She likes to be the center of attention, so it may be best if there are no other children in the home, though if they are older that would probably work.
