

Mason is a very intelligent, straight A student who loves school and learning new things. He is smart, creative, and helpful. In his spare time, he enjoys playing outside and video games. Mason likes to journal and read. Mason is currently writing a book of poetry and hopes to have it published someday.

Mason's dream family would consist of an active, young mother and father with lots of pets, but he is open to other options. Mason desires to stay connected to his younger brother.

Mason would do well in a family who is patient and who will be flexible and figure things out together. He needs a family who will encourage and support him emotionally and educationally.
